The road to Nevyansk, on the way - an interesting story of a guide

Visit Nevyansk inclined tower, which for many years keeps many secrets and mysteries. The Nevyansk tower, built by Demidovs, is one of the most famous and interesting monuments of industrial architecture in the Urals. A feature of the Nevyansk tower is that it is built at an angle, which is why it is often compared with the leaning tower of Pisa.

Lunch

The road to N. Tagil, on the way - an interesting story of a guide.

Visit to the "Old Demidov Plant». Today it is the first in Russia Museum-plant of the history of ferrous metallurgy, the uniqueness and historical significance of which is recognized by the international scientific community. The plant has preserved the layout of the water-producing enterprise. Buildings and equipment of the XIX – XX centuries demonstrate the development of metallurgical technologies, improvement of the energy system. Here you can trace all the stages of development of a typical Ural plant using different energy sources: water, steam, electricity. Expositions "Blast furnace production", "open-Hearth production", "power Economy" and "Rolling stock" arouse great interest of visitors.
